FIXE + Ottimate: Revolutionizing Restaurant Accounting

While many restaurants rely on manual processes to handle invoices, pay vendors, and track income and expenses, FIXE has teamed up with Ottimate to pave the way for a more efficient process.

A Solution Born from Industry Experience

Born out of a passion for improving restaurants' financial health and operational efficiency, FIXE was founded with a clear vision: to revolutionize bookkeeping for restaurants by integrating advanced technology.

As FIXE's Co-Founder and CEO, Ryan Handel, explains: "FIXE is a technology-forward bookkeeping platform that was founded by restaurant people for restaurant people. I own restaurants as well, and I was sick of bookkeeping and accounting the way it was being done. So we put together this platform that uses some third-party software — including our own — in order to facilitate bookkeeping and accounting. And Ottimate has been one of the software solutions we've used since day one."

FIXE provides comprehensive, accurate, and timely bookkeeping services tailored specifically for restaurants. By focusing on this niche, FIXE has not only grown its understanding of the industry's pain points and needs, but has offered its clients streamlined solutions that significantly enhance operational efficiency and financial clarity.

Visionary Leadership

In my role as CEO, the vision and everything comes from me — I have a hand in everything at the company. But I'm a restaurant person to start. So my belief is that we want to implement processes and systems that make it as easy on the restaurant operator as possible. That's where every decision we make stems from: what makes it easier on the operator.

Embracing Innovation with the Power of Ottimate

As a restaurant owner himself, Ryan recognized the inefficiencies of traditional bookkeeping methods. The cumbersome process of managing invoices through back-and-forth emails with bookkeepers was time-consuming and error-prone. Ryan wanted more control and transparency in the AP process, which was hard to achieve with conventional bookkeeping solutions.

As a leader in restaurant AP automation, Ottimate proved to be the perfect partner for FIXE's accounts payable needs.

Outstanding Outcomes

With Ottimate's Invoice Automation and VendorPay solutions as part of their core offerings, FIXE gives their restaurant clients a comprehensive package that meets their unique financial needs:

- Doing More with Less. Ottimate's platform allowed the FIXE team to significantly streamline their AP processes — reducing the time and tediousness of manual labor.
- Onboarding with Ease. With Ottimate, FIXE can onboard new clients quickly and get their invoices categorized and processed within a week.
- Managing Increased Invoice Volumes. With so many invoices flowing in and out, the FIXE team relies on Ottimate's ability to make managing this high volume a breeze.
- Elevating Satisfaction Levels. Ottimate doesn't just lighten the workload for FIXE's account managers, it also puts less work on their clients' plates.
- Working Hand in Hand with QuickBooks. The easy interchange between Ottimate and QuickBooks ensures accurate data and timely reporting.

FIXE-ated on the Future

Looking ahead, FIXE is not resting on its laurels. The company plans to push its tech-centric approach even further, by creating a comprehensive platform that integrates the tools and solutions they use into a single dashboard. With this platform, they aim to simplify the metrics restaurant owners need most and to deliver key financial updates through text messages and other easily accessible formats.

"We know restaurateurs, and they're not on their computers. They're not sitting down in an office — they're on their phones. And so we want to try to give them that information as readily and quickly as possible."

Next, FIXE will be designing its own dashboard that aggregates key data from each of its primary platforms into one, easy-to-digest space. With this ambitious project, FIXE aims to deepen its integration with Ottimate and its other core systems, enhancing its service offerings and maintaining its competitive edge in the industry.

Advice for Other Firms

When it comes to looking for a bookkeeping solution, Ryan offers the following advice:

"At FIXE, we have this mentality that if it's going to make our life even five minutes faster, we're going to entertain it. And so that's what we do, and if we think it's going to be great for our clients, then we're going to include it in part of our packages.

*"We're one of the only bookkeeping firms that have in-house software engineers who are actually trying to automate more processes. For firms that are looking to incorporate technology, I can't tell anyone specifically what to use and what not to use. But, ultimately, we did not want our clients dictating the technology they wanted to use — we dictated the technology that we knew worked well in order to give the service that we could vouch for.

*Ottimate has been instrumental in helping us grow from a product standpoint, branding standpoint, and a general workflow and efficiency standpoint. I think you guys are best in class in terms of processing invoices. That's what we say in all of our sales meetings and our calls: we try to provide the best-in-class software. And in terms of straight processing invoices and paying vendors, there's no one better."
